

ART SHOW

SUBMISSIONS needed

In the spirit of visual arts inspiring and celebrating social change as showcased with the 2018 One Book, One San Diego selection, March: Book One, by Congressman John Lewis, Andrew Aydin and Nate Powell, the Scripps Ranch Library will host an art show featuring community submissions.

---

SUBMISSIONS SHOULD:

Honor the Civil Rights movement

– or –

Celebrate non-violent protest

– or –

Highlight a contemporary cause that you would march for

–

OR ANY COMBINATION OF THE ELEMENTS ABOVE

---

All submissions that fit the requirements and promote inclusivity will be showcased at the Art Show on Saturday, December 8th. All ages are invited to submit. All mediums (drawing, painting, sculpture, digital art, mixed mediums, photography, poetry) are welcome. Artists may submit multiple works. Collaborative works are appreciated.

This event is part of the San Diego Public Library's programming for this year's One Book, One San Diego where we will explore themes of civil rights, social justice, and discrimination.

QUESTIONS: srlteencouncil@gmail.com

How to submit your art:

We have two simple ways for you to choose from:

---

COMPLETE THE ONLINE FORM

By scanning the QR code

or going to <https://goo.gl/forms/np8pS5iYkRZOcHSL2>

---

email srlteencouncil@gmail.com

Include your name, the name you'd like to be published under (e.g. anonymous), the title of your piece, a photo of your art, and (optional) an artist statement about your inspiration, the creative choices involved in your art, and/or the technical aspects of your work.

---

Art should be submitted by Sunday, November 25th by 11:59 pm

You only need to submit your work through the form or email. You may submit as many works as you like, however you should fill out a separate form for each. After digitally submitting, we will be in touch to coordinate specific art drop off dates and times. Thank you for participating! You can look forward to seeing your art displayed on Saturday, December 8th in the community room.

Note: Artists are responsible for delivering their art to the library within the coordinated drop off window. Teen Council and Scripps Ranch Library are not responsible for any damage the art may sustain while on view to the public.

QUESTIONS: srlteencouncil@gmail.com